Construction of piped water supply			29,778,000

Challenges

- Locals block side and mitre drains because of a misconception that construction of the drains is a guise to grab their land
- Rice growers block inlet and outlet of the culvert crossings thus interrupting the flow of water and this ultimately ends destroying the constructed road structure.
- The effect of Climatic Changes which result into drying up of water sources(Springs) most especially during prolonged drought
- Poor community attitude towards maintenance, leading to low functionality status which reduces on the effective coverage.
- Poor ground water potential which leads to drilling of some dry boreholes
- Lack of vehicle for monitoring water projects
- Poor pipes on the market.
- Decreasing Funding for the sanitation sector
- Communities are not readily willing to contribute towards operation and maintenance (O&M) of the facilities.
